ALEXANDRIA, VA — Alexandria Choral Society Appoints Cheryl Lovinsky as Chorus Manager

The Alexandria Choral Society (ACS) is pleased to announce the appointment of Cheryl Lovinsky as its new Chorus Manager. She began her tenure on August 3, 2026, bringing to the role a depth of experience in nonprofit administration and a lifelong dedication to the musical arts.

As Chorus Manager, Cheryl oversees the day-to-day operations that keep the nearly 90-member chorus running smoothly, from coordinating auditions and communications to managing logistics for the ensemble's concert season. At her first full rehearsal, she shared a simple goal with the singers: keep things orderly behind the scenes so every performer can focus on making beautiful music.

Lovinsky comes to ACS from a career in direct response fundraising at AARP Foundation, where she developed the systems-thinking and organizational skills that now serve the chorus's operations. She also serves on the board of the Direct Marketing Association of Washington (DMAW). She is a lifelong musician, playing Horn in local orchestras and chamber ensembles. She has sung with the Baltimore Symphony Chorus; the Alexandria Singers; and the Trinity Choir of Alfred Street Baptist Church, with whom she toured Europe. Having been a chorus member herself, she understands what a chorus needs to thrive.

In addition to her performance background, Lovinsky brings governance expertise to the role, having drafted organizational bylaws and supported board development for arts nonprofits such as Bach in Baltimore and Arch Angel Production (NJ). This combination of administrative rigor and artistic passion make her an ideal fit for ACS as the organization continues to grow its community presence.

"We are delighted to welcome Cheryl to the Alexandria Choral Society family," said Artistic Director Kathryn Harsha. "Her blend of musical knowledge and organizational skill is exactly what we need as we head into an exciting new season. She understands the behind-the-scenes work that makes great performances possible, and we're thrilled to have her on board."
